▶ Chair's Letter

Kristi Kleinholz
Chair

Greetings, Chamber members!

As spring slowly approaches – with the Annual Awards Banquet on April 12, 2024 – I want to say congratulations to the 2023 award recipients! It will be a wonderful evening “Under The Sea,” celebrating and connecting with friends and colleagues. Hope to “sea” you there!

Speaking of spring, with spring comes the annual Armed Forces Recognition luncheon that honors and applauds

E-6 and below members of each branch of the military for their contributions and dedication. This event, on Friday, May 10, is also a way to show our appreciation for Buckley Space Force Base, which is such a huge part of our community and local economy.

After spring, the summer of 2024 brings The Chamber's move to the Aurora Federal Credit Union building at 620 S Abilene St, Aurora, CO 80012. It is just the other (south) side of The Town Center at Aurora! That will certainly be another celebratory event.

I have always championed The Chamber as a great ‘community’ to be a part of. As we strengthen and grow the community, please extend invitations to businesses you know, so they too can benefit from The Chamber's commitment to the business community!

Economic Activity and Impact of the Arts

Tuesday, February 6, 2024

By Mark Smith, PhotoSmith Colorado, and ABC Chair

Meredith Badler, deputy director of the Colorado Business Committee for the Arts (CBCA), shared the results of CBCA's 2022 Economic Activity Study of Denver Metro Culture report at the February ABC meeting. The biennial report quantifies the economic contributions of arts and culture in the Denver metro area.

In 2022 There was $2.6 billion in total economic activity generated by the arts - encompassing both direct and indirect spending. The $81 million COVID-related Federal funding to the arts was a 448% increase over 2020, but only a 2.75% increase over pre-pandemic 2019. <https://cbca.org/economic-activity-study/>

In the realm of workforce impact, employment at arts, cultural, and scientific organizations reached a new high in 2022 of 13,551 people, with the largest increases in full-time and contract workers. There was a 65% increase in attendance and outreach over 2020. That said, in-person arts/culture attendance, and outreach to students (3.8 million) did not fully recover to pre-pandemic levels. Interestingly, attendance from international patrons surpassed 2019, and philanthropy rebounded in the amount of 294 million. While this is encouraging, Badler reminded attendees that it does not suggest that we sit back and relax – but need to continue to support the arts at full speed ahead!

CBCA also offers resources to help artists through Advancing Creatives, has an Arts + Industry Forum Series, ArtsConnect, Colorado Attorneys for the Arts, and the Leadership Arts leadership training program that prepares people to serve on nonprofit Boards of Directors and increase their civic engagement in the arts. <https://cbca.org/programs/>

TRANSPORTATION

The Future of Front Range Passenger Rail

Wednesday, January 10, 2024

By Tim Harris, Horrocks Engineers, and Transportation Committee Vice-chair

Andy Karsian, general manager for the Front Range Passenger Rail (FRPR) gave an update on the concept of passenger rail service connecting New Mexico and Wyoming along the front range.

Andy Karsian

The Vision is “Connecting Coloradoans to Opportunities, Adventures, and Each Other,” via inter-city rail to help address I-25 congestion and air quality issues due to increasing population. The idea has been discussed since the 1970's and is gaining more momentum since the creation of the FRPR District by the legislature in 2021. The current proposal is to develop initial service between Pueblo and Fort Collins using existing tracks with seven stops along the way.

The FRPR team is currently developing a Service Development Plan outlining stations, service frequency, fare structures, cost, financing, and implementation plans. An election giving the district taxing authority will be required, possibly this November, with the plan of generating revenues to leverage massive federal grants made available through the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law.

Priorities during 2024 include a decision on timing and timing of ballot issue, building coalitions of support for FRPR, engaging with the legislature for policy discussions, and pursuing federal funding opportunities.

Transportation in the City of Aurora

Wednesday, February 7, 2024

The annual review of the City of Aurora's Transportation Program was presented by Public Works Director Cindy Colip and several staff. Colip highlighted that the city has grown to nearly 400,000 people, with forecasts of continued growth being addressed by the development of Strategic Plans led by the new City Manager Jason Batchelor. She also shared that the city's “Build Up Aurora” pavement rehabilitation plan was completed ahead of schedule and within budget.

Traffic Manager Carlie Campuzano is utilizing DRCOG grants for traffic signal and fiber network upgrades along with development of a Traffic Management Center (TMC). Manager of Project Delivery Services Cathy Valencia next detailed some construction projects: Box Elder Creek Flood recovery and prevention; Imboden Road paving project; Havana/11th Ave/Del Mar Parkway; Parker/Quincy/Smoky Hill; and the I-70/Picadilly interchange.

Senior Transportation Planner Tom Worker-Braddock explained that partnerships are necessary for increased efficiency and impact of available dollars. The city frequently teams with Arapahoe and Adams Counties to complete high priority projects.

Principal Transportation Planner Huijiang Liu is leading the City's Multimodal Transportation Master Plan (“Connecting Aurora”) scheduled for completion late 2025, after extensive public involvement.

Planning Supervisor Mac Callison delivered an overview of the process and product of developing a Capital Improvement Plan (CIMP) along with pursuit of federal grants to implement such plans.

All About Water

Thursday, February 1, 2024

There are multiple facilities across Aurora including three drinking water treatment facilities and one reclaimed water treatment facility. Aurora Water has an aggressive approach to meeting the demands of a growing city. Some of the initiatives include:

- Comprehensive Water Management Plan
- Demand-based connection fees
- Aggressive conservation efforts

AmbassadorSpotlight

You see him at almost every ribbon cutting and many of The Chamber's committee meetings. Since joining The Chamber at the end of 2021, Brian Weiher has become a familiar face to many. Chamber Director of Membership Steve Phillips interviewed Brian to find out about his life beyond his dedicated involvement in The Chamber.

Brian Weiher

me through mutual connections. Six years later I still love what I am doing.

S: Career achievements you'd like to share?

B: As a personal trainer, I was the top trainer at our club two years in a row. When I started sales representing Nautilus/Schwinn, I successfully grew a once underdeveloped territory, and was recruited by CEO of Technogym The Wellness Company in 2005. I worked for Technogym, where I grew the territory to more than $15 million during my 10 years with the company. I was also awarded Top Sales Rep in 2009 out of 750 worldwide reps.

When I joined the insurance industry, I was recognized with The Topper Club Award, and as an independent agent, I have been in the Top 10 Insurance Professionals for the last three years within our agency of more than 100 agents.

S: How did you find out about The Chamber?

B: I heard about The Chamber and was first introduced to an event by BK Martin. I had wanted to learn more about Aurora since moving here in 2000.

S: What made you want to be an Ambassador?

B: I never thought about being an Ambassador but enjoyed all of the events the Chamber hosts throughout the community - and I was nominated to be a member of the Ambassador Team. I appreciate the great people I have met and want to do more for The Chamber and Aurora.

S: Where did you grow up and where did you go to school?

B: I was born in Chicago, but most of my childhood was in Newburgh, IN. I went to college at Indiana State in Terre Haute - and got a degree in Exercise Science.

S: How did you find yourself in Aurora?

B: After visiting my brother in Boulder in 1997, I fell in love with Boulder and Colorado. I moved to Boulder in 1999 and met my wife a year later. We then moved to Aurora and have been married 22 years. Our son and daughter are both in college, playing their favorite sports - football and volleyball.

S: How did you find your current career path?

B: After 19 years in the fitness industry, as both personal trainer and outside sales, I wanted to travel less. I have always enjoyed meeting new people and helping others. A friend worked at Farmers Insurance, so I jumped in with both feet at the end of 2014. After three years, I decided to go independent and Colorado Insurance found

S: How has being a member of the chamber helped your business?

B: I did not join the Chamber to help grow my business. I really wanted to be a part of The Chamber and all that they do. But over time, many of The Chamber members and businesses have sent opportunities my way, for which I am extremely grateful.

S: Committees you attend and why?

B: Defense Council - I really enjoy learning about what each branch of the military is doing. I really enjoy going onto Buckley Space Force Base. I also enjoy attending ribbon cuttings; it's a great way to meet people and to see and support new businesses.

S: What are you looking forward to in 2024 (personal and professional)

B: Whether you like change or not, whether you think it is good or bad, it is necessary for personal growth and a better future. I really enjoy each year for what it has to offer and the challenges that arise. I thoroughly enjoy watching my kids grow into young adults and watching them continue to play their favorite sports at the college level.

It's so important to celebrate the little things in life, as it does pass by quickly.

S: Any other fun details you'd like to share?

B: in my 20's, I raced mountain bikes. I completed two 24-hour races - one in Moab with a team of five, and another in Winter Park with a team of four. And, when I used to snowboard, I once did over 62,000 vertical feet in one day at Copper Mountain. ■
